Boomers Are Sociopaths, Millennials Are Bums: Rethinking ... A generation is far more than simply an age or a birthdate. For example, we can place a generation in history. The Boomers were alive during the height of the Cold War; the Millennials came of age while the U.S. was militarily engaged in the Middle East. In Review: A Generation of Sociopaths -- Alice Cheshire ... To start with, the premise declaring the Baby Boomers as a generation of sociopaths is a bold and somewhat dubious claim. The Baby Boomer generation has no concrete beginning or end for one thing, since the concept of a "generation" as a general grouping of one cohort of people born and maturing within a time frame is vague, in and of itself. How the baby boomers destroyed everything - The Boston Globe Boomers weren't genetically predestined to be dysfunctional; they were conditioned to be. They were the first generation to be raised permissively, the first reared on television and subject to its developmental harms, and the only living group raised in an era of seemingly effortless prosperity.
